Development revenue up slightly this year

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

Permit values were up slightly in the Town of Didsbury in the first six months of this year compared to the same time period in 2013.

The total value of construction as of June 30 was $3,944,900 compared to $3,774,650 for the same time period in 2013. There were 46 permits taken out for new construction as of June 30, compared to 42 for the first six months of last year. Values for residential construction were down $656,750 due to eight less permits taken out for residential construction through to the end of June than the 28 taken out through the first six months of 2013.

Permit values for garages, additions to homes, signs and decks, among other smaller projects were up this year by $157,400 over the same time period in 2013 to $186,900. The value of commercial and industrial activity up to the end of June nearly doubled from last year's $786,400 to $1,456,000.

"We are ahead of last year by a fair amount," said Roy Brown, the town's chief administrative officer. "We continue to be very pleased with the growth."

Brown said administrators are concerned, however, the current supply of residential lots is dwi-ning. He said he is currently in discussion with several developers to help ease the shortage.

Brown said this year is shaping up to be an average one, with no huge projects such as Bethany Care, which caused a spike in construction values in 2012 to $21,342,790. Brown said he expects to see several commercial and industrial projects moving forward in the second half of the year to bolster growth.

"We haven't had any major projects this year, as opposed to, for example, in 2012 when we had Bethany Care, but at the same time, we're very excited about the last half of the year, which tends to be our busiest half," he said.

In terms of the tax base, Brown said the town is moving toward a more healthy mix of residential versus non-residential property, away from the low point of 90 per cent residential.

"We are definitely moving in the right direction and we've had some very, very significant gains," he said, noting that when Bruce Steel comes on stream, that development alone will add one per cent to the non-residential tax base.

"It's a very slow process, but it's a process that we're going to continue to hammer away at," he said.

Telus closing in on wiring community for high speed

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

Telus has connected over half of all the residences and businesses in Didsbury to the high-speed fibre optic cable the company is installing in the community.

Telus began installing the fibre optic network throughout the community in September 2013 due to its strong allegiance to the company, a company spokesperson said. The company anticipates completing the network throughout the community by sometime later this fall, giving Didsbury residents some of the fastest Internet connections – up to 100 megabits per second – in the province, according to the company.

Businesses will benefit by being able to store more data, upload content faster, stream videos and participate in webinars, all from Didsbury.

This is really significant for business owners in the area, because access to the fastest Internet speeds available provides them an edge in competing in global markets while operating at home in Didsbury – it can really give them a leg up on competing businesses who don't have access to the same world class technology," said Liz Sauve, a spokesperson for Telus. "(It) puts them on par with businesses in larger centres that may have access to this technology."

For residential customers, the new network will allow them to choose Optik TV, Telus's TV service.

One of the features of the service is a wireless personal video recorder that allows users, among other things, to set and record television shows remotely from a smartphone or other device using an application to communicate with the wireless box.

"You have access to video-on-demand from your tablet," Sauve said, noting that this technology could be used for keeping children entertained on long road trips if the vehicle isn't equipped with television screens.

Sauve said community and town support for Telus over the years was what tipped the company in favour of choosing Didsbury as a place to install the fibre optic network.

"We've received incredibly positive feedback from the municipality and residents when we first began discussing bringing this world-class technology to the community. We're thrilled to bring this enhanced technology to customers in the area and there's only a handful of communities in North America ... that have the fibre to the home that we're building in Didsbury right now," Sauve said.

Shantz to get power

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

Town councillors gave the go-ahead to FortisAlberta to put in power at the Shantz Business Park at their meeting on July 22.

Fortis had originally quoted the work for $183,731 in 2012, but since work on roads and other utilities weren't completed until June 2014, the work wasn't completed. As a result, Fortis did an updated quote for the work totalling $236,724, an increase of $52,993.

The town plans to recover the costs of the work through lot sales in the park.

Liquor store suspect to appear in court

A Didsbury man charged with robbing two liquor stores in town has another court date scheduled for August 11.

Cody James Wood, 20, of Didsbury, will appear in court again after he appeared in Didsbury court on a first appearance July 28. He is charged with two counts of robbery of the liquor stores on July 26 and 27, one count of break and enter in an unrelated matter along with one count of possession of stolen property.

Didsbury RCMP say a suspect entered the Mountain View Liquor Store at about 7 p.m. on July 26 where he stole a bottle of vodka. Police say before leaving, the suspect threatened the employee at the store. RCMP attended the scene but were unable to locate the suspect.

The next day, at about 4 p.m. police allege Wood entered the Didsbury Liquor and Beer store, where staff recognized him as the suspect from the other robbery because staff from the two stores communicated with each other.

"So essentially, on the 26th, Saturday, at about 7 p.m. he entered the Mountain View Liquor Store and he took a bottle of vodka without paying. Upon leaving the store he threatened staff members, and officers attended that night and were able to identify him but unable to locate him," said Const. Mike Dillon.

"And then the next day, he attended the Didsbury Liquor and Beer Store, and was immediately identified as the person who'd robbed the other liquor store from the night before by staff members. (RCMP) members attended, Woods had left, and eventually as he knew we were looking for him, he turned himself in to the detachment later in that day and was arrested without incident," Dillon said.

Break-and-enter to rural residence

RCMP are continuing to investigate a break and enter to a rural residence in Mountain View County after they received a 911 call at about 4 a.m. on July 28. The caller told the dispatcher that an intruder had entered the home but when they called out, the intruder fled the residence. A police dog from the RCMP's canine unit in Red Deer tracked the suspect to the road, but lost the scent.

Didsbury residence burgled

On July 26, police say an intruder forced their way into a residence in town and stole numerous electronic devices. Police received a report from a witness who said they saw a male leaving the scene, walking down the street with his bike, with a flat-screen TV sitting on the bike as he pushed. He appeared to be intoxicated and was estimated to be between 5'9" and 5'10". Anyone who may have seen or can identify the suspect is asked to contact police.

Scam making rounds

RCMP are warning residents to be wary of a scam making the rounds in the area. In this case, suspects purportedly from Telus are sending emails to computer users asking users to update their Telus account information. The scam works by getting people to click on a link in the email, which gives the scammers access to personal data. People are asked to ignore the email, delete it immediately and call the police or the national anti-fraud centre at 1-888-495-8501. The anti-fraud centre is also available at <https://antifraudcentre-centreantifraude.ca>.

Didsbury and area residents off to war

BY LEA SMALDON
MVP Staff

Little did Didsburians know that the June 28, 1914 assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria would lead many of them into battle on foreign ground and change how their fellow residents would live.

Ferdinand was the heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungarian throne.

He and his wife were shot dead in Sarajevo in an assassination bid to break off Austria-Hungary's south-Slav provinces so they could be combined into a Yugoslavia.

In response, Austria-Hungary issued an ultimatum against Serbia, which was partially rejected. Austria-Hungary then declared war.

According to an account by Veterans Affairs Canada, Ferdinand's assassination went almost unnoticed in Canada.

Few Canadians expected that it would lead to war; fewer still anticipated the sacrifices Canada would be called to make, the account states.

But in reading their Aug. 5, 1914 Didsbury Pioneer, area residents could not deny

"The big war which has been predicted for the last few generations appears to have come at last..." reads part of the story headlined "ALL EUROPE AT WAR."

Governments of countries around the world chose sides.

The Didsbury Pioneer article informed readers that "England, Russia, Germany, France, Austria-Hungary, Serbia, and Montenegro. All fighting. Italy and Turkey remain Neutral at present."

The Great European Powers were ranged against each other in two alliances—The Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy) and the Triple Entente (France, Russia and Great Britain).

On August 4, 1914, the German Army invaded a neutral on its way to France. Britain demanded Germany's withdrawal citing a treaty guaranteeing Belgium's neutrality. By midnight Aug. 4, 1914, historical records note the demand went unanswered.

Britain declared war. Because Canada was part of the British Commonwealth, that meant Canada was at war as well.

According to an account says Canada had a regular army of only 3,110 men and a fledgling navy.

Within a few weeks of Borden's offer to Great Britain, more than 32,000 Canadian men gathered at Valcartier Camp near Quebec City and within two months the First Contingent, Canadian Expeditionary Force, was on its way to England in the largest convoy ever to cross the Atlantic, according to the Veterans Affairs' account.

Many Didsbury area residents, including Alfred Pryce, promptly joined the effort.

Born in Wales, he arrived in Calgary in the 1880s at the age of 21. According to his family history, he drove a stagecoach from Calgary to Edmonton for a while and then before enlisting.

"However on account of his age he was turned back at Valcartier Camp. Not satisfied, after a few months he rejoined with Major Wolferton's Regiment and served until the end of the war," reads the account in Echoes of an Era.

Others who enlisted, like Milton Eby, did not make it home.

Eby and his seven siblings came with their parents to Didsbury in 1899.

Eby was killed in France in 1918, having served with the Red Cross for three years.

The Didsbury area at the time of the outbreak of the war was still in its infancy.

The community was declared a village in 1905 and a town in 1906.

Much of the surrounding area was still being homesteaded and basic services like telephone had just been established in parts of the Didsbury district in the summer of 1914.

Businesses, like the Sinclair brothers' blacksmith shop in Didsbury were a necessity as horse and wagon was still the predominate mode of transportation.

James Sinclair had spent about seven

Minimum wage hike to likely boost other wages

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

An increase to the minimum wage in September is likely to boost other wages that are slightly above the minimum in Didsbury.

The provincial government announced in the spring that the general minimum wage will go up 25 cents to $10.20 per hour effective Sept. 1. For liquor servers, the rate will increase to $9.20 from $9.05 per hour.

The increase should be good news for local residents looking to get into the workforce without having to travel to Olds or other communities to look for work, said Dennis Ranks, vice-president of the Didsbury and District

Chamber of Commerce. "It's got to help people from going to Olds or Carstairs for jobs because there's jobs in this town. You can go into Olds and work there for $1 more or 50 cents more, so it makes it tough to compete," he said.

Greg Poirer, manager at AG Foods, said the new minimum wage will probably have an impact, but not in the way many people might think.

He said the store already pays $10.65 per hour for starting employees, but he said the company will probably hike that rate by the 25-cent provincial increase to $10.90 per hour for starting employees.

He said the company,

Buy-Low Foods, has stores across Alberta and B.C. and has hiked the minimum it pays workers in the past when the general minimum wage has gone up to keep workers ahead of the minimum.

The company keeps ahead of the minimum wage because many other entry-level jobs at the larger chain operations also pay above the minimum wage, so AG Foods does the same in order to attract workers. He also said because the company has stores in many geographic locations, a minimum wage wouldn't attract workers in northern Alberta, for example, where the cost of living is higher.

"If the minimum wage goes up, our head office will probably move our minimum up by the (same amount). When the minimum goes up, we move ours up so that we stay ahead of it," he said.

Engel

Fern was born at Halkirk, July 16th, 1922, the 7th child of Harry and Celia Duncan. She had 5 sisters, who she shared a special bond with Beatrice Godberson, Peggy Dahmer, Celia "Sis" Creasey, Doris "Toots" Fowler, Jean Plouvier, & her 4 brothers Alex, Donald, Jimmy, Harry Duncan. Brother Edwin passed away as a young child and Sister Mary died as an infant. Fern spent her childhood living on the Duncan family farm south of Halkirk. Fern enjoyed the farm life and the freedom they all had. When the work was done, there was always time to explore and entertain. She spoke of the skating down the creek near their farm and school functions and dances that she attended. Fern attended school at Leader. She stayed home to help her mother on the farm for several years. On February 16th, 1952 she married Louie Engel. They moved onto the "Kobi Place", just two miles from Duncan's, into a 3 room house. In 1957, with 3 small children they moved a mile west to Louie's dad's place, the Alex Engel farm. They farmed there until 1964, when they bought a home in the village of Halkirk. Fern lived her entire adult life within this area, and she was so proud of Halkirk. In 2006 Louie and Fern sold their Halkirk home, moving into Castor Senior Housing, then Paintearth Lodge, Coronation Assisted Living, and eventually Coronation Continuing Care. Fern is fondly remembered by staff and residents for her time with them.

Fern loved to visit and many people have fond memories of sitting at the kitchen table, watching her birds, and enjoying a cup of instant coffee. She had a closeness to her sisters and brothers and as they all lived so near, there were many visits, outings and enjoyable times with family. Fern was a long time member of The Sunny Circle Club and Royal Purple and was always there to help with numerous activities. Louie kept Fern busy, for he had large gardens, a green house and a Saskatoon orchard, that she harvested and canned the produce and made countless pies. During the winter months Fern kept busy by keeping up with curling, puzzles, her beloved Oilers and crocheting blankets and mittens for her children and grandchildren, and snowmobiling.

Fern is survived by her husband Louie who resides in Coronation; her four children: Don (Kjerene) Engel, Doris (Dennis) Cordel, Wayne Engel and Dianne Engel-Kimmel (Stuart Bates); 10 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren: Jennifer (Colin) Pekrul, and their children Emily, Austin and Greyson; Brad (Erica) Engel and their daughter Sloan; Corrine Cordel (Randy Tebbeck) and Corrine's sons Dawson and Blade Bateman; Jason (Frances) Cordel and their children Carlene, Farica & Ferron; Adrian (Cassandra) Cordel and their son Caleb; Rae-anne Cordel (Mark Smith); Nicole Thomson; Dayle Kimmel (Nicolas Renggli); Mackenzie Kimmel (Tyler Hobbs) and their daughter Emree; Madison Kimmel. She is also survived by brothers Jim Duncan and Harry (Hazel) Duncan and sisters-in-law Irene Duncan and Lena Knight, as well as many dear nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Fern Engel were held on Wednesday, July 23, 2014 in the Halkirk Community Hall, Halkirk, Alberta with Reverend Barbara Zimmerman officiating. Fern was laid to rest at the Halkirk Cemetery, Halkirk, Alberta. As an expression of sympathy memorial donations may be made in memory of Fern to Halkirk Cemetery, Paintearth Lodge, Coronation Hospital Foundation - Assisted Living or Extended Care or a charity of choice c/o Stettler Funeral Home & Crematorium, Box 1780, Stettler, Alberta T0C 2L0, 403-742-3422, who were entrusted with the care and arrangements. To send or view condolences to Fern's family, please visit www.stettlerfuneralhome.com
